

Wastesmiths C.I.C. objects rewrite

The company's activities will benefit ...

the residents of the east of England through the offer of local care, repair, recycling, reuse and reclamation to reverse the impacts of human waste that ends up in landfill, incineration, general waste, discarded in public spaces, waterways and the marine environment. Reversing the negative impacts of human waste fostering flourishing environments is our primary environmental aim as a company.

The company's activities will provide benefit to people seeking personal development for the purposes of pursuing paid employment or personal enrichment. The company will deliver this benefit to the people of the east of England through the offer of volunteering opportunities, work experience, education, training, knowledge sharing and workshop experience in areas ranging from recycling processes, plastic product manufacture, product design, workshop delivery, and group facilitation. Personal development through education, training, knowledge sharing and workshop experience is our primary social aim as a company.

The company's activities will also provide social, mental health and wellbeing benefits to people in the east of England through facilitating community participation in acts of care, repair, recycling, reuse and reclamation. The company will offer these benefits through community building around the offer of space to work, workshops, events and opportunities to participate in activities. The social benefits of the company's activities will have a specific focus on reducing loneliness and social isolation.